

NEWS FROM THE ANALYTICAL INSTRUMENTATION FACILITY (AIF) - FEBRUARY 2019

Envisioning Research Competition - You Could Win $250!

The Envisioning Research competition is now open and accepting applications! The contest awards the best visual representations of NC State research, including microscopy images. Graduate students, undergraduate students, postdocs, faculty, and staff can apply. The deadline is June 7, 2019. Show off your cool pictures you have from AIF!

Learn More »

Apply Now: New RTNN Student Ambassadors Program

The RTNN ambassadors program is now accepting applications for the spring semester. This program is open to undergraduate and graduate students from NC State University, Duke University, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Priority applications are due February 18, 2019.

Find Out More »

AIF User Spotlight

Ryan Schoell is a 2nd year graduate student who is pursuing his doctorate in nuclear engineering with a minor in materials. See how he has been utilizing the AIF to understand a phenomenon known as stress corrosion cracking.

Meet Ryan »

Calling All Grad Students- Submit Your Application for Science Outside the Lab!

Science Outside the Lab brings a small cohort of graduate student scientists and engineers to Washington, D.C. to explore the relationships among science, innovation, and policy. This is completely free for those selected. The application deadline is March 1, 2019.

Apply Here »

Raman Tutorial Success

On January 29 & 30, AIF and Dr. Marco Deluca hosted a Raman Spectroscopy Tutorial. There were over 50 attendees from many different backgrounds and locations. Click the link to learn more about the tutorial's success.

Read More »

Short Courses

AIF is offering several upcoming short courses. Be sure to sign up as spots fill quickly!

Sign Up »